Teun A. van Dijk was professor of discourse studies at the University of Amsterdam until 2004, and is at present professor at the Universitat Pompeu Fabra, Barcelona. After earlier work on generative poetics, text grammar, and the psychology of text processing, his work since 1980 takes a more 'critical' perspective and deals with discursive racism, news in the press, ideology, knowledge and context. He is the author of several books in most of these areas, and he edited The Handbook of Discourse Analysis (4 vols, 1985) and the introduction Discourse Studies (2 vols., 1997). He founded 4 international journals, Poetics, Text, Discourse & Society, and Discourse Studies, of which he still edits the latter two. His last monographs are Ideology (London, Sage, 1998), Ideología y Discurso (Barcelona: Ariel, 2003), Dominación étnica y racismo discursivo en España y América Latina (Barcelona: Gedisa, 2003), and his last edited book (with Ruth Wodak), Racism at the Top (2000). He is currently working on a new book on the theory of context. Teun van Dijk, who holds two honorary doctorates, has lectured widely in many countries, especially also in Latin America. For a list of publications, recent articles, resources for discourse studies and other information, see his homepage: www.discourse-in-society.org.
