productive for our project, offering us a preliminary conceptual framework, continuous encouragement, and rigorous evaluative feedback along the way.

Acknowledgements

We would like to express our gratitude to a number of organizations that have generously supported the elaboration and production of this volume:

- The Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada and the University of Toronto for providing the original grant;
- The Netherlands Institute of Advanced Studies (NIAS) for providing five Fellowships during the academic year 1999–2000;
- The Coordinating Committee of the International Comparative Literature Association (ICLA) for providing a subsidy towards the incidental costs of the project;
- The Netherlands Research Board (NWO), the Netherlands Academy of Sciences (KNAW), NIAS, the University of Amsterdam, the Amsterdam Theater Institute, and the Allard Pierson Foundation for contributing to the costs of a working Conference that was held in the summer of 2000 at the NIAS Institute in Wassenaar, the Netherlands;
- Virginia Commonwealth University, its College of Humanities and Sciences and its English Department, for granting one of the editors paid study-research leave and helping with editing and travel costs.

We would also like to thank Virgil Nemoianu for his comprehensive external evaluation of our project, Randolph Pope and Fridrun Rinner for their critical response to several essays in this volume, Steven T. Collis for his copyediting of the entire manuscript, and Roel Schuyt for his careful checking of all proper names, titles, and references in this book.

Last but not least, we would like to express our thanks to Isja Conen at John Benjamins Publishing Company for helping set up the new sub-series, in which this History appears, and for guiding this volume through the editing and printing process in a professional, patient, and genial manner.
