FOREWORD

The present collection of articles grew out of papers presented at the European Colloquium on "The Boundaries of Morphology and Syntax" which was held at the Dipartimento di Linguistica of the Università degli Studi di Roma Tre in the period 25-27 October 1997. It was attended by linguists, mostly Europeans but also North Americans, from eleven countries.

I would like to express my gratitude to all the speakers who greatly helped making the Colloquium a successful event. I also thank the numerous participants whose contributions kept the discussion lively and interesting.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I acknowledge the financial support of the Università degli Studi di Roma Tre and in particular the 1996 Research Committee (Francesco Paolo Ricci, chairman), as well as the Humanities Committee of the Comitato Nazionale delle Ricerche (Paolo Ramat, chairman). I also acknowledge the financial support of the Dipartimento di Linguistica (Raffaele Simone, head of Department). Thanks go to the Saritel Company (a Telecom Italia Group Company) for sponsoring the Colloquium.

A special thanks to Biancamaria Tedeschini Lalli, the Rector of my University in 1997, for introducing the Colloquium.

This volume, and the Colloquium itself, would not have been possible without the help of Giuseppina Vecchioni and the other administrative and technical staff members of my Department. Thanks also to my English speaking colleagues, Patrick Boylan, Elisabeth Glass and David Hart for their constant assistance.

Annarita Puglielli was generous in her support; Mara Frascarelli worked hard as my assistant for the Colloquium and formatted papers for the present volume; I thank them both.

Special thanks go to Raffaele Simone, who has contributed so much to make the Colloquium a success, not only with his professional experience but also with his friendly encouragement; I am in debt to him also for his help and suggestions in the various stages of the preparation of this volume.

I finally wish to thank my family, Franco and Chiara, who patiently endured my frequent absences both during the Colloquium and while preparing this volume.
