Acknowledgements

We would like to express our gratitude to all the authors of the chapters for their patience and understanding during the process of editing and producing this book. They have always readily and positively responded to our requests and to the reviewers' comments, and we are privileged to be able to present the results of their researches in this volume on the instrumental investigation of Arabic speech.

While the authors' names appear with their chapters, those of the reviewers do not, but their contribution has been essential in ensuring the scholarly standards and academic value of the work reported in this volume. We would like to put on record our gratitude to the following colleagues who provided independent reviews of one or more of the chapters: (in alphabetical order) Sonya Bird, the late Gösta Bruce, James Dickins, Jerold Edmondson, Paul Foulkes, Ghalib Mohammed Baqir Ghalib, Mark Jones, Esther De Leeuw, Rachid Ridouane, Jim Scobbie, Jane Stuart-Smith and Jacqueline Vaissière. Our thanks are also due to Alex Bellem for compiling the index.

Last but not least, we wish to thank Anke de Looper at John Benjamins, a number of anonymous reviewers and the Series Editor, Professor E. F. K. Koerner, for their much valued advice and guidance at various stages in the production of this volume.
