Foreword and acknowledgments

This volume brings together selected papers from the international conference “Word Classes: Nature, typology, computational representations” held in Rome, 24–26 March 2010. The conference was organized by the TRIPLE Laboratory (Tavolo di ricerca sulla parola e il lessico “Research Desk on Word and Lexicon”), based in the former Department of Linguistics of the Roma Tre University.

We are especially grateful to Guido Fabiani, at the time President of the University, for funding the event, and to his staff (foremost Alberta Cardillo and Ruben Rispoli) for their help with administrative matters. A special word of thanks is due to Valentina Efrati, who gave us her invaluable support during all phases of the organization. We are also deeply grateful to the members of the Scientific Committee for their abstract reviewing services (Elena De Miguel, Livio Gaeta, Adam Kilgariff, Vincenzo Lo Cascio, Anna Pompei, and Jan Rijkhoff) and to Sara Berlanda, Germana Civilleri, Martina Gherardi, and Valentina Piunno (at the time doctoral students in Linguistics at Roma Tre) for their generous organizational help during the days of the conference.

The papers for the present volume were selected through a double-blind peer review. We would like to express our sincere gratitude to all the colleagues who accepted to serve as anonymous reviewers for one or more chapters, as well as to the Board members of the CILT Series – especially the indefatigable E. Wyn Roberts – for their constant feedback and support. Their work was crucial for making this volume as worthy as possible.

Finally, we wish to thank E. F. K. Koerner for welcoming our project in his Series and supporting and encouraging us throughout the entire publishing process, Anke de Looper and Susan Hendriks for their professional support during the final phases of the publishing process, and Kathy Mahan for taking good care of the English language in the whole volume.
