Acknowledgements

While working on this project I benefitted from the assistance of a number of people. First of all, I would like to express my deep gratitude to Sook Whan Cho, whose work on the acquisition of Korean first got me interested in that language and who subsequently encouraged me to work on the problem of case marking.

Special thanks are also due to Young-Seok Choi and Sung-Ock Shin, who served as my principal informants and who provided invaluable comments on an earlier version of this manuscript. I am also very grateful for the help of D.-J. Lee, my first Korean teacher, who read and commented on different versions of the manuscript, noting many problems and providing invaluable help with the Korean data. His assistance and insights helped me find my way out of many deadends. Don Frantz also read the manuscript in its entirety and made many valuable suggestions, for which I am very grateful. Additional important data and comments were provided by Younghee Na, Keon-Soo Lee, Yutaka Sato, Kazue Kanno, Gyung-Ran Kim, Hak-neung Joo, Eung-Do Cook, Joe Ree, Konrad Koerner and two anonymous referees, to whom I express my thanks. Needless to say, any remaining errors are my responsibility.

The production of the final version of the manuscript was due in large part to the efforts of Betty Lewis, Susan Langley and Kazue Kanno. Without their help and hard work, this project could not have been completed.
