This book has had a long history of preparation. We are grateful to all those who were involved in some way or other in helping us sharpen the concepts and who have read the many different versions of the manuscripts. Our special thanks go to Els Andringa, Jan Auracher, Marisa Bortolussi, Peter Dixon, Don Kuiken, Max Louwerse, Marcelo Oliveira, Mick Short, Paul Sopcak, Alexey Tyurikov, and the students who participated in all the REDES Seminars. We would like to thank Paul Sopcak for his expert help with the SPSS screenshots. The book would never have reached its completion were it not for those students of the Institute for Media and Representation at Utrecht University who helped collect data, namely Willemijn van der Bent, Jery Hsu, Femke Penning de Vries, Paul van Beckum, Ilonka Kupecz. David Miall has also been so generous as to offer a one-semester course testing the materials with his students at the University of Alberta. Our special thanks go to all our REDES junior researchers in Brazil who have contributed to all stages of the volume, especially Alessandra Mitie Spallanzani, Alexandre José Cadilhe, Carla Xavier, Danielle Menezes, Érika Coachman, Fabiana Fausto, Gabriela Marques, Gabriela Oliveira, Juliana Jandre, Kelly Carvalho, Leandra Luciano, Milena Mendes, Natalia Baguez, Natália Giordani, Olivia Fialho, Raquel Haua, Roberta Boechat, Suzana de Deus, Vander Viana. Anna Chesnokova and the REDES members at Kyiv National Linguistic University have also put all the concepts and experiments here to test and returned to us with precious comments.

To all we offer thanks and offer, in return, the volume, which we hope will be useful to many more people.
