This book is based on my doctoral thesis that was partially funded by the Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft (DFG) through a scholarship of the Graduate Program Task Oriented Communication (GK 256) Universität Bielefeld. My thanks go to my colleagues at the Graduate Program and especially our speaker Dieter Metzger. For their invaluable advice and encouraging remarks I would like to thank my supervisors Dafydd Gibbon and John Brian Walmsley and the participants of their colloquia as well as two anonymous reviewers at Benjamins for their helpful comments. I also want to thank Andreas H. Jucker and Isja Conen for their friendly and professional communication during preparation of my manuscript and Sylvia Nasaroff and Donna Devine for final proofreading. I am grateful to Kim Cardosi, Kellye Je'anne Tanner and Bryan Rife for background information, Harro Ranter for his kind permission to use and transform the ATC/CVR transcripts he hosts on aviation-safety.net, Harald Lungen for discussion and Benjamin Hell, Jens Pöninghaus and Marcus Grieger for support with the perl-scripts. I am indebted to my parents and my aunts Inge and Thea and last not least to my husband Peter Kühnlein for his patience and untiring willingness to discuss matters.
