

CONTENTS

Illustrations ix

Acknowledgements xiii

Hitler's Cosmopolitan Bastard:
Why This Title? xvii

Introduction 3

- 1 European Father, Asian Mother 10
- 2 Siblings, School, Love, and Marriage 27
- 3 Thinking in Continents, Not Countries 39
- 4 Europe Answers His Question 56
- 5 Between Hitler and Mussolini 70
- 6 Pacifist and Freemason 78
- 7 Pan-Europa: Utopia or Reality? 90
- 8 Taking Europe to the Capitals 100
- 9 New Friends, New Enemies 115
- 10 European Patriots All 126
- 11 Triumph in France 137
- 12 Defeat in Germany 149

13	Last Stand on the Old Continent	167
14	Escape from Europe	188
15	Bringing America Onside	205
16	The United States of Europe?	228
17	Pushing Parliaments towards Power	242
18	An Open Conspiracy	258
19	Behind Churchill	274
20	Bringing Germany in from the Cold	284
21	Money Matters	300
22	The British Dilemma	308
23	‘Mon cher ami, mon Président’	320
24	Europe’s Father, Europe’s Grandfather	338
25	Reaping Rewards in the Twilight Years	352
26	A Patron Saint for Europe	363
	Postscript	373
	The Coudenhove-Kalergi Family	377
	Notes	381
	Sources and Further Reading	415
	Index	423