

CONTENTS

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| Acknowledgments  | ix  |
| 1 A Conversation Between Republicanism and Feminism                                 | 1   |
| 2 Livy and the Repetition of Republican Foundations                                 | 23  |
| 3 La Mandragola and the Seduction of Lucrezia                                | 51  |
| 4 The Seriously Comedic, or Why Machiavelli's Lucrezia Is Not Livy's Virtuous Roman | 77  |
| 5 The Paradox of Rousseau's Politics and the Return to the Founding                 | 99  |
| 6 Nouvelle Héloïse and the Supplement of Sexual Difference                   | 117 |
| 7 Concluding Remarks  | 155 |
| Bibliography   | 175 |
| Index  | 185 |

