

Contents

Acknowledgments • ix

Introduction • DAVID C. OH AND BENJAMIN M. HAN • i

.....

PART I • Transcultural Affinity, Excess, and Contradiction

1 • The Road to Fandom: Joy and Black “Fans” in K-pop
CRYSTAL S. ANDERSON • 33

2 • Between Appreciation and Appropriation: Race-Transitioning among Hallyu Fans • MIN JOO LEE • 52

3 • Korean Romance for Wholesomeness and Racism?
The Transcultural Reception of the Reality Dating Show
Single’s Inferno • WOORI HAN • 74

4 • K-pop and the Racialization of Asian American Popular
Musicians • DONNA LEE KWON • 98

5 • “Soft” Koreans and “Sensual” Cubans:
Race, Gender, and the Reception of South Korean Popular Culture in Cuba • LAURA-ZOË HUMPHREYS • 122

PART II • Intersectional Connection and Imaginaries

- 6 • Latin Orientalism and Anglo Hegemony in Korean Rock:
Seo Taiji's "Moai" (2009) • MOISÉS PARK • 149
- 7 • "I Was Probably Korean in a Previous Life": Transracial Jokes
and Fantasies of Hallyu Fans • IRINA LYAN • 171
- 8 • Hallyu Dreaming: Making Sense of Race and Gender in K-dramas in the US Midwest and Ireland
REBECCA CHİYOKO KING-O'RIAIN • 194
- 9 • When K-pop Meets Islam: Cultural Appropriation and Fan Engagement • YOUNG JUNG • 216
- 10 • "I Can Do Both": Queering K-pop Idols
through the White Discursive Standpoint of TikTok Users
JULIA TRZCIŃSKA AND DAVID C. OH • 238

.....

List of Contributors • 261

Index • 267