

LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS

Following p. 66

1. Headquarters of Georgian Cheka-GPU-NKVD, Tbilisi, 1921–36.
2. Beria's wife, Nino. (Courtesy of National Archives)
3. The home of Lavrentii and Nino Beria in Tbilisi after 1935, no. 11 Machabeli Street.
4. Sergo Ordzhonikidze, Beria's mentor. (Courtesy of National Archives)
5. Beria and Stalin's daughter, Svetlana Alliluyeva, at Sochi, near the Black Sea, early 1930s. (Courtesy of National Archives)
6. Beria with Svetlana Alliluyeva on his lap and Stalin seated in the background. Stalin's dacha near Sochi, mid-1930s. (Courtesy of Library of Congress)

Following p. 154

7. Beria's house in Moscow, no. 3 Vspolnyi pereulok. Now the Tunisian Embassy.
8. Beria's most powerful Kremlin colleagues in the immediate post-war period: Molotov, Malenkov and Zhdanov. (Courtesy of Library of Congress)
9. Beria on the cover of Time magazine, March 1948. (Copyright 1948 Time Inc. Reprinted by permission.)
10. Beria in a touched-up photograph, around 1950. (Courtesy of Library of Congress)
11. Molotov, Beria, and Malenkov standing on Lenin's Tomb, watching the May Day Parade, 1953. (Courtesy of Library of Congress)
12. Malenkov and Beria as pallbearers at Stalin's funeral. (Courtesy of Library of Congress)

