

Acknowledgments

Many people have contributed to producing this work, and the editors would like to extend our thanks. First, we thank the readers of the manuscript for their thorough work and their numerous valuable suggestions. We thank Colin McKinney for his work on the Apollonius material, including his translations of the Eutocius commentary and the excerpt from Serenus. He also wrote the explanations of Archimedes' On Spirals. Michael Fried gave us valuable suggestions as to which parts of Apollonius's Conics to include. Danny Otero graciously translated the Latin poem Carmen de Ponderibus et Mensuris, and Reviel Netz generously allowed us to use parts of his soon-to-be-published translations of several works of Archimedes. Tessa Grant contributed her expertise in drawing the majority of the figures in the book. We also want to thank our editors at Princeton University Press, Susannah Shoemaker and Diana Gillooly, for their help and support in navigating the process from contract to production. They were assisted by Kristen Hop, Kiran Pandey, and Whitney Rauenhorst. In addition, Lisa Black, the permissions manager at the Press, helped us through the sometimes difficult process of securing permissions, while Dimitri Karetnikov dealt effectively with issues surrounding the figures. Wanda España designed our cover and oversaw the text design, while Elizabeth Byrd was our liaison for production matters and Erin Davis for the team at Westchester Publishing, who did a magnificent job in copyediting a difficult manuscript. Finally, Victor thanks his wife, Phyllis, who, as always, has made valuable suggestions and provided encouragement and love. Clemency thanks her husband, Yann, for being an anchor, a support, and a creative spark throughout the writing process. We are grateful to all of you for helping this book come to fruition.

