

CONTENTS

Preface	vii
Acknowledgements	ix
List of contributors	xi
1. Introduction: a cultural ecology of film and television in Europe	1
2. BRITAIN: Meet Mr Lucifer: British cinema under the spell of TV Graham Roberts and Heather Wallis	6
3. FRANCE: Cinematic television or televisual cinema: INA and Canal+ Dorota Ostrowska	25
4. ITALY: Cinema and television: collaborators and threat Luisa Cigognetti and Pierre Sorlin	41
5. SPAIN: Bipolar visions, unified realities: a general overview Valeria Camporesi	55
6. GERMANY: Screen wars: German national cinema in the age of television Margit Grieb and Will Lehman	71
7. DENMARK: The element of childhood from children's television to Dogme 95 Dorota Ostrowska and Gunhild Agger	87
8. POLAND: Costume dramas: cine-televisual alliances in the socialist and post-socialist Poland Dorota Ostrowska and Małgorzata Radkiewicz	107
9. Audio-visual production cultures: convergence and resistance	125
10. Kinesthetics : cinematic forms in the age of television	144

CONTENTS

11. Reproduction: re-creation of cinema via the domestic screen	159
Bibliography	173
Index	186