Contents

List of figures			vii
List of tables
		dgements	ix
		: Towards a sociolinguistic history of the English language	X
1	Sociolinguistics: an overview
	1.1	Historical linguistics and sociolinguistics	1
	1.2	Sociolinguistics	2
	1.3	Conclusions	15
	Further reading		16
	Som	e issues to consider	16
2	Lang 2.1	guage change and sociolinguistic processes in the past Sociolinguistic change in the recent past: /r/ in New	17
		York City	17
	2.2	Sociolinguistic change in the more distant past	26
	2.3	Discussion	40
	Further reading		41
	Som	e issues to consider	42
3	Standardisation
	3.1	Theories of linguistic dominance, subordination and
		standardisation	43
	3.2	The standardisation of early Modern English	48
	3.3	, , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , ,	51
	3.4	The dialectalisation of Scots	66
	3.5	Conclusions	75
	Further reading		76
	Some issues to consider		76

4	Codification and ideology		78
	4.1	Modern ideologies of language	78
	4.2	The codification of English	80
	4.3	Towards a middle class culture	85
	4.4	USA: pluralism, unity, purism	95
	4.5	Lower middle class language ideologies in modern
		Britain and beyond	105
	4.6	Discussion	107
	Further reading		108
	Som	e issues to consider	108
5	Contact and shift as agents of change
	5.1	Typological change from Old English to Middle
		English	109
	5.2	Language contact as catalyst	121
	5.3	Language contact from a theoretical viewpoint	127
	5.4	Weighing up the evidence: contact and linguistic
		change	144
	5.5	Discussion	150
	Further reading		151
	Some issues to consider		151
6	Linguistic contact and new dialect formation		154
	6.1	Colonial dialects: an introduction	154
	6.2	Theoretical models	158
	6.3	Case studies	168
	6.4	Conclusion	194
	Further reading		194
	Some issues to consider		194
7	Som	e final thoughts	196
Re	References
In	Index		