

Contents

Preface and Acknowledgements	vii
Introduction	1
1 The Narrator and the Narrative: A Literary Analysis of Aḥādīth al-Ṣifāt	21
Introduction	21
I. A Preliminary Remark on Hadith and Narratology	23
II. The Framing Narrative	25
III. The Embedded Narrative	33
IV. The Narrator and his Audience	38
V. The Motives of the Narrator	42
VI. The Narrator's Role	47
2 A Tale of Two Narrators: Some Historical, Geographical and Cultural Considerations	68
Introduction	68
I. Two Different Narrators	69
II. The Proliferation of the Abu Razin Narrative	82
III. Two Narrators and One Narrative: The Tribal Connection	87
IV. The Proliferation of the Jarir Narrative	93
V. The Jarir Narrative and the Miḥna	99
3 Gestures and Aḥādīth al-Ṣifāt	120
Introduction	120
I. The Prophet's Gestures: Iconic, Metaphoric and Deictic	122

II. ‘The Instance of Narrating’: The Narrator and his Audience	128
III. The Performing Trend	134
IV. The Ultimate Performer of Aḥādīth al-Ṣifāt	146
V. The Predicament of the Traditionalists	153
4 The Diversified Solution to the Challenge of Islamic Traditionalism: Aḥādīth al-Ṣifāt and Bi-Lā Kayfa	185
Introduction	185
I. Drawing the Borderlines of the Traditionalistic Discourse	189
II. The Earliest Debate	206
III. Transmission, Censorship and Euphemisms	216
IV. The All-inclusive Tanzīh : The Ash‘arite Solution	223
V. Expanding the Borders of the Traditionalistic Discourse	234
5 Iconic Books and Gestures: Aḥādīth al-Ṣifāt in the Public Sphere	267
Introduction	267
I. The Iconicity of the Qadiri Creed	272
II. The Three Dimensions of Kitāb al-Tawḥīd	278
III. Fakhr al-Din al-Razi’s Response to Kitāb al-Tawḥīd	294
IV. Ibn Taymiyya’s al-Ḥamawīyya al-Kubrā and Two Iconic Gestures	313
V. Iconic Gestures and the Hashwiyya	328
Final Remarks and Conclusions	360
Appendix I: Full Translations of Lengthy Traditions	371
Appendix II: Full Translation of ‘the Ḥadīth of Allegiance’ of Abu Razin	376
Appendix III: Chains of Transmission	383
Appendix IV: Chains of Transmission	366
Appendix V: Chains of Transmission	390
Bibliography	392
Index	420