

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The editors thank the various publications and individuals who have given us permission to reprint the interviews in this volume. We thank Zachary Snow for his tireless effort and thoughtful correspondence with the various copyright holders throughout the process of acquiring these permissions, and Greta Tasedan for her assistance in this process. Christeen Clemens was enormously helpful to us in our work on the manuscript and especially in the preparation of the photo illustrations. We also thank Ingo Stelte, who assisted R. Barton Palmer in the translation of the interview with Leif Kramp, originally published in German.

The development of this volume quickly became a team project. We are grateful to Gillian Leslie, Michelle Houston, Jenny Peebles, and James Dale at Edinburgh University Press for their interest in the project, as well as their encouragement, editorial judgment, and prompt and always helpful communications. Wendy Lee provided both meticulous attention to detail and probing inquiry in her copy-editing of the typescript, for which we are grateful. The striking cover design, utilizing an image from Heat, is by Paul Smith. It was a pleasure working with all these professionals, who embraced the project with so much energy and enthusiasm.

