

Contents

Tables and Figures	ix
Acknowledgments	xi
Illustrations follow page	204
Introduction	3

PART ONE: BOURGEOISIE, ARISTOCRACY, AND CULTURAL POWER 17

1	Rise of the Bourgeoisie	19
2	Persistence of the Old Order	33
3	Cultural Power	44

PART TWO: STATE, WAR, AND COLLECTIVE POWER 77

4	Theoretical Considerations	79
5	Conditions for Collective Action in Medieval Europe	91
6	Conditions for Collective Action in Early Modern and Modern Europe	97
7	Collective-Action Problems and the Honours of States	137

PART THREE: SOCIAL STRUCTURES AND DISCIPLINARY POWER 195

8	The Middle Ages	198
9	Discipline in Early Modern and Modern Europe	206
10	Disciplinary Functions of State Honours	230

PART FOUR: STATUS STRUCTURES AND STATUS
POWER 255

- 11 Honours and Existing Status Structures 258
- 12 Status Struggles 272
- 13 Status Consequences of State Honours 291

State Honours in Comparative Perspective: A Global Analysis 341

Conclusion: Toward an Explanation of Modern State
Honours 367

Epilogue: The Endless Spiral of Honours 372

APPENDICES 379

- A Was There a Rise of the Bourgeoisie or Middle Class? 381
- B Characteristics of Members of the Legion of Honour, the Order of Leopold, and the Order of the British Empire 385
- C Cross-Tabulations of Characteristics of Honours and Social-Political Characteristics of States and Societies
Sampled in the Comparative Analysis 407

Notes 419

References 451

Index 483