

Table of Contents

| | |
|--|----|
| Acknowledgements | ix |
| Introduction: Cyber-Utopia? Getting Beyond the Binary Notion of Technology as Good or Bad for Girls Jane Bailey and Valerie Steeves | 1 |

Part I: It's Not That Simple: Complicating Girls' Experiences on Social Media

| | | |
|-----|--|----|
| I | A Perfect Storm: How the Online Environment, Social Norms, and Law Shape Girls' Lives Jane Bailey | 21 |
| II | Revisiting Cyberfeminism: Theory as a Tool for Understanding Young Women's Experiences Trevor Scott Milford | 55 |
| III | Thinking Beyond the Internet as a Tool: Girls' Online Spaces as Postfeminist Structures of Surveillance Akane Kanai | 83 |

Part II: Living in a Gendered Gaze

| | | |
|-----|--|-----|
| IV | The Internet and Friendship Seeking: Exploring the Role of Online Communication in Young, Recently Immigrated Women's Social Lives Assumpta Ndengeyingoma | 109 |
| V | "She's Just a Small Town Girl, Living in an Online World": Differences and Similarities between Urban and Rural Girls' Use of and Views about Online Social Networking Jacquelyn Burkell and Madelaine Saginur | 129 |
| VI | "Pretty and Just a Little Bit Sexy, I Guess": Publicity, Privacy, and the Pressure to Perform "Appropriate" Femininity on Social Media Valerie Steeves | 153 |
| VII | Girls and Online Drama: Aggression, Surveillance, or Entertainment? Priscilla M. Regan and Diana L. Sweet | 175 |

| | | |
|------|--|-----|
| VIII | BBM Is Like Match.com: Social Networking and the Digital Mediation of Teens' Sexual Cultures Jessica Ringrose and Laura Harvey | 199 |
|------|--|-----|

Part III: Dealing with Sexualized Violence

| | | |
|-----|--|-----|
| IX | Rape Threats and Revenge Porn: Defining Sexual Violence in the Digital Age Jordan Fairbairn | 229 |
| X | Motion to Dismiss: Bias Crime, Online Communication, and the Sex Lives of Others in NJ v. Ravi Andrea Slane | 253 |
| XI | Defining the Legal Lines: eGirls and Intimate Images Shaheen Shariff and Ashley DeMartini | 281 |
| XII | "She's Such a Slut!": The Sexualized Cyberbullying of Teen Girls and the Education Law Response Gillian Angrove | 307 |

Part IV: eGirls, eCitizens

| | | |
|------|--|-----|
| XIII | Digital Literacy and Digital Citizenship: Approaches to Girls' Online Experiences Matthew Johnson | 339 |
| XIV | Security and Insecurity Online: Perspectives from Girls and Young Women Sarah Heath | 361 |
| XV | Transformative Works: Young Women's Voices on Fandom and Fair Use Betsy Rosenblatt and Rebecca Tushnet | 385 |
| XVI | I Want My Internet! Young Women on the Politics of Usage-Based Billing Leslie Regan Shade | 411 |
| | Conclusion: Looking Forward Jane Bailey and Valerie Steeves | 435 |
| | Bibliography | 439 |
| | Contributors | 495 |
| | Index | 503 |

Page left blank intentionally

Page left blank intentionally