

Table of Contents

Preface
Elizabeth Dubois and Florian Martin-Bariteau	vii
Introduction
Citizenship in a Connected Canada
Elizabeth Dubois and Florian Martin-Bariteau	1
 Part I: Building an Inclusive Society in a Digital Context
1 Decolonizing Digital Spaces
Alexander Dirksen	23
2 Telling a Different Story: Canadian Citizens and Their Democracy in the Digital Age
Adelina Petit-Vouriot and Mike Morden	41
3 Framing the Challenges of Digital Inclusion for Young Canadians
Leslie Regan Shade, Jane Bailey, Jacquelyn Burkell, Priscilla Regan, and Valerie Steeves	57
 Part II: Building Democratic Institutions in a Digital Context
4 Government in the Connected Era
Kent Aitken	77
5 Data Governance: The Next Frontier of Digital Government Research and Practice
Amanda Clarke	97
6 The Conversation Canada: Not-for-Profit Journalism in a Time of Commercial Media Decline
Mary Lynn Young and Alfred Hermida	119
7 Influencing the Internet: Lobbyists and Interest Groups’ Impact on Digital Rights in Canada
Megan Beretta	135

Part III: Rethinking Legal Frameworks for the Digital Context

8 Consumers First, Digital Citizenry Second:
Through the Gateway of Standard-Form Contracts
Marina Pavlović..... 157

9 A Human Rights-Based Approach to Data Protection in Canada
Teresa Scassa..... 173

10 Making Sense of the Canadian Digital Tax Debate
Michael Geist 189

11 Online Abuse, Chilling Effects, and Human Rights
Jonathon W. Penney 207

Conclusion

Next Steps for a Connected Canada
Elizabeth Dubois and Florian Martin-Bariteau..... 223

Contributors 235

Index..... 243