

Contents

Preface, xi

Abbreviations, xv

Introduction 1

Part I: Envisioning Reform from the Center

1. Western Models and Chinese Practices: The New Policy Decade 25
2. Judicial Modernity as Performance of Formality: The Beiyang Era 54
3. Justice Under the Party-State: The Nanjing Decade 84

Part II: Provincial Setting and Financial Constraints

4. Provincial Institutions and Judicial Reform in Jiangsu 115
5. Judicial Finance: Nation, Province, and County 149

Part III: The County Judicial Process

6. The Social Context of County Judicial Functions 187
7. Power and Justice in Local Society 219
8. Prison Reform and County Jails 247

Part IV: Between Formalization and Informal Practices

9. "Quick Justice": Punishing Robbers and Bandits 277
10. The Praxis of Petition and the Economy of False Accusation 302

viii Contents

Conclusion 329

Notes, 337

References, 357

Glossary, 369

Index, 373