

contents

introduction xi

january

the southern winter 3      winter tips 4      color schemes 6 persian-garden rugs 7      camellias 8      flowering olives 10 pinks, old and new 11      native hollies 12      aucubas, the great shade lovers 13      mediterranean flowers 14 winter care of trees 16      black-berried hollies 17 climbing roses 18

february

winter flowers 20      winter cold 21      christmas roses and lenten roses 22      hardy annuals 23      daffodils 24 winter daffodils 25      snowdrops and snowflakes 26 hedges and screens 28      starving plants 29      cold damage to evergreens 30      winter damage, cold frames, pits, and hotbeds 31      thoughts from snowbound charleston 32

march

catalogue fever 34      a late spring 35      hyacinths 36 some interesting "new" plants 37      astilbes and the like 38

break up clay with gypsum 39      japanese cherries 40 south african wild-flower rescue 41      bluebells 42
the blue effect 43      pruning notes 44      travel notes 45 large shrubs into small trees 46

april

september charm 48      less-known azaleas 49      some wild beauties 50 vagaries of april 51      tall bearded irises in the landscape 52 feed, feed, feed 53      snowballs and other viburnams 54
petunias 56      summer bulbs 57
in praise of phloxes 58      the "riot of color" 59
flower color 60

may

dividing fall perennials 62      night flowers for the terrace 63 irises 64      butterfly bushes 65      beyond azaleas for variety 67 ginkgo trees 68      bulb-digging and cyclamen-planting time 69 gardening under mulches 70
the large perennials 71      the rugosa roses 72 lavender 73      northern virginia gardens 74

june

wild flowers of june and july 76      summer 77      plant for the autumn garden 78
holly-feeding time 79
summer-flowering shrubs 80      philadelphia arboretums and gardens 81 some good old roses still with us 82      the old hybrid teas 84 flowering trees 85      mulleins 86 hollyhocks 87      dividing tall german irises 88

july

wild-flower seeds 90      daylilies 91      beach plants 92 an old-fashioned garden 93      hardy cyclamens 95      july, month of the morning-glory 96      midsummer flowers 97 monardas 98      wisteria 99      four distinguished southerners 100      plum trees for beauty and fruit 101 delphiniums in the south 103

august

the signs of late summer 105      late-summer magic 106 green "sallets" unbounded 107      victorian gardening 108 some choice summer shrubs 109      everybody loves flowers 110 travel notes—hillier's nursery 112      more about phloxes 113 travel notes—london 114      texas flowers 115      figs 117 hot-weather dangers 118

september

peony-planting time 120      colchicums 121      september in the south 122      japanese pagoda trees 123      southern maples 124      september-sown annuals and perennials 126 arboretums and botanical gardens 127      colchicums and fall crocuses 128      after a cold winter 129      the wild asters 130      goldenrod 131      some odd trees 132

october

october in charleston 134      autumn and eleagnus 135 evergreen ferns 136      october tasks 137      camellia companions 138      fall and winter crocuses 139      daffodils for mass planting 140      the ghost house of natchez 142

new orleans' longue vue gardens 143      frost protection 144 perpetual-flowering roses 145      spring and summer perennials 147      the long color season 148

november

early spring bulbs 150      the little bulbs 151      a garden visit 152      camellia sasanqua 154      apples 155 pansies 156      berries in the woods 157      plant for the birds 159      southern oak trees 160      leaves galore 161 ultimate size 162      witch-hazel time 163

december

tulips 165      wild tulips 166      photinias 167 lilies 168      tender plants 169      variegated ivies 170 tree space 171      land of evergreens 172      pleasures of christmas decorating 174      spruces and firs 175
chinese hollies 176

bibliography 179

index 181