

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments ix

- 1 Intertextuality and Interpretation i
Intertextual Reading 12
The Problematics of Stone Lore 19
- 2 The Mythological Dictionary of Stone 35
Semantic Considerations 35
Nü-kua and Stone 44
Yü and the She Ritual 57
Rainmaking Rituals 63
The Feng-shan Ritual: The Imperial Sacrifices to Heaven and Earth 66
Shih kan-tang: The Evil-Warding Stone 71
The Inscribed Stone 72
Folk Legends about Stone's Fertilizing Capability 75
Ming-shih: The Sonorous Stone 78
Shih Yen: The Talking Stone 81
Chao-shih and Shih-ching: The Stone That Illuminates and the Stone Mirror 83
Tien-t'ou Wan-shih: The Enlightened Crude/Unknowing Stone 84
Shih-nü: Stone Woman 85
The Mythological Dictionary of Stone 88
- 3 Stone and Jade: From the Fictitious to the Morally Prescribed 95
The Sacred Fertile Stone 99

	Precious Jade	109
	The Unfolding of a Moral Vision: Chieh and Chen	122
	Between Stone and Jade: An Issue of Authenticity and Artificiality —from the Moral to Metaphysical Vision	155
4	The Story of Stone: The Problematic of Contradiction and Constraint	173
	San-sheng Shih : The Stone of Rebirth	177
	T'ung-ling Shih and Wan Shih : The Stone of Divine Intelligence and the Unknowing Stone	193
	The Liminal Stone	198
	Is There a Beginning in the Dream of the Red Chamber ?	208
5	The Paradox of Desire and Emptiness: The Stone Monkey Intertextualized	221
	The Lustful Ape: Chinese and Indian Citations	223
	The Liminal Folkloric Stone	232
	The Trickster	234
	The Knowing Stone	243
6	The Inscribed Stone Tablet	251
	Conclusion	269
	Notes	278
	Bibliography	319
	Index	333