

Contents

LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS xiii

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS xv

Introduction: Searching for the Living among the Dead 1

Prelude: A World Put Right, 31 March 1840 20

1. The Greatest Indian City in the World: Caste, Gender, and Politics, 1750–1821 25
2. Defending the Pueblo: Popular Protests and Elite Politics, 1786–1826 54
3. A Pestilent Nationalism: The 1837 Cholera Epidemic Reconsidered 82
4. A House with Two Masters: Carrera and the Restored Republic of Indians 99
5. Principales to Patronés, Macehuales to Mozos: Land, Labor, and the Commodification of Community 110
6. Regenerating the Race: Race, Class, and the Nationalization of Ethnicity 130
7. Time and Space among the Maya: Mayan Modernism and the Transformation of the City 159
8. The Blood of Guatemalans: Class Struggle and the Death of K'iche' Nationalism 198

Conclusions: The Limits of Nation, 1954–1999 220

Epilogue: The Living among the Dead 234

APPENDIX 1 Names and Places 237

APPENDIX 2 Glossary 241

NOTES 243

WORKS CITED 315

INDEX 337

