

Contents

Acknowledgments xi

Introduction: Language, Body Practices, and the Social 1

- 1 Production Practices 17
    - a. Flexible Accumulation and the Labor Market
    - b. Cybernetic Systems and the Labor Process
    - c. The Discipline of Neoclassical Economics
  - 2 Consumption Practices 47
    - a. Product Characteristics and Use Value
    - b. Image in Late-Capitalist Advertising
    - c. The Consumption of Lifestyle
    - d. The Semiotics of Late-Capitalist Commodity
  - 3 The Hegemony of Exchangist Practices 75
  - 4 Social Reproduction Practices 91
    - a. Changing Household and the Politics of “The Family”
    - b. Re-Racialization
    - c. The Body and Bio-Technical Systems
  - 5 Sexuality and Gender Construction 121
    - a. Gender and Sexuality
    - b. Sexual Lifestyle and Late-Capitalist Consumption
    - c. Gender Construction in Late Capitalism
  - 6 RedisCIPLining the Subject 149
    - a. The Discourse of Psychiatry
    - b. Changing Mental Health Practices
    - c. The Bounds of Psychopathology
- Retrospect: The Problematic of the Body in Late Capitalism 173
- References 179
- Index 193

