

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction Stephen P. Garvey	i
1 : Second Thoughts: Americans' Views on the Death Penalty at the Turn of the Century Samuel R. Gross & Phoebe C. Ellsworth	7
2 : Capital Punishment, Federal Courts, and the Writ of Habeas Corpus Larry W. Yackle	58
3 : "Until I Can Be Sure": How the Threat of Executing the Innocent Has Transformed the Death Penalty Debate Ken Armstrong & Steve Mills	94
4 : Race and Capital Punishment Sheri Lynn Johnson	121
5 : Lessons from the Capital Jury Project John H. Blume, Theodore Eisenberg, & Stephen P. Garvey	144
6 : International Law and the Abolition of the Death Penalty William A. Schabas	178
Postscript: The Peculiar Present of American Capital Punishment Franklin E. Zimring	212
Contributors	231
Index	233

