

Contents

Acknowledgments	xi
Prologue	xv
Introduction: From Ethnoaesthetics to Art History	1
1 Truth or Beauty: The Revelatory Regime of Pintupi Painting	17
2 Practices of Painting: A Local History and a Vexed Intersection	54
3 The Aesthetic Function and the Practice of Pintupi Painting: A Local Art History	80
4 Making a Market: Cultural Policy and Modernity in the Outback	120
5 Burned Out, Outback: Art Advisers Working between Two Worlds	147
6 The “Industry”: Exhibition Success and Economic Rationalization	184
7 After the Fall: In the Arts Industry	209
8 Materializing Culture and the New Internationalism	230
9 Performing Aboriginality at the Asia Society Gallery	255
10 Postprimitivism: Lines of Tension in the Making of Aboriginal High Art	277
11 Unsettled Business	315
12 Recontextualizations: The Traffic in Culture	342
Appendix: A Short History of Papunya Tula Exhibition, 1971–1985	363
Notes	365
References	373
Index	391

