

CONTENTS

vii	ACKNOWLEDGMENTS
1	INTRODUCTION Waves of Decolonization and Discourses of Hemispheric Citizenship
35	ONE “White Slaves” and the “Arrogant Mestiza ”: Reconfiguring Whiteness in The Squatter and the Don and Ramona
67	TWO “The Coming Unities” in “Our America”: Decolonization and Anticolonial Messianism in Martí, Du Bois, and the Santa de Cabora
147	THREE Transnationalisms against the State: Contesting Neocolonialism in the Harlem Renaissance, Cuban Negrismo , and Mexican Indigenismo
202	FOUR “Rising Tides of Color”: Ethnography and Theories of Race and Migration in Boas, Park, Gamio, and Hurston
241	CODA Waves of Decolonization and Discourses of Hemispheric Citizenship
245	NOTES
301	REFERENCES
329	INDEX

