

Contents

Preface and Acknowledgments xi

1. The Subject of America: The Outsider Inside 1

2. Writing Indians 25

3. The Irony and Mimicry of William Apess 41

4. Black Hawk and the Moral Force of Transposition 60

5. The Terms of George Copway's Surrender 84

6. John Rollin Ridge and the Law 111

7. Sarah Winnemucca's Mediations: Gender,
Race, and Nation 139

8. Personifying America: Apess's "Eulogy on King Philip" 164

9. Native American Literature and Nineteenth-Century
Nationalisms 185

Appendix: "The Red Man's Rebuke" 209

Notes 221

Works Cited 239

Index 249

