

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Preface: What's the Use of History? RUTH J. ABRAM	ix
Introduction: The Rise and Fall of the New York Garment Industry DANIEL SOYER	3

PART I

The Local and the Global: The Geography of New York's Clothing Trades

1 From Downtown Tenements to Midtown Lofts: The Shifting Geography of an Urban Industry NANCY L. GREEN	27
2 The Globalization of New York's Garment Industry FLORENCE PALPACUER	45
3 The Geographical Movement of Chinese Garment Shops: A Late Twentieth Century Tale of the New York Garment Industry XIAOLAN BAO	67

PART II

Workers and Entrepreneurs: Home and Shop

4 Cockroach Capitalists: Jewish Contractors at the Turn of the Twentieth Century DANIEL SOYER	91
--	----

- 5 Tailors and Troublemakers: Jewish Militancy in the New York
Garment Industry, 1889–1910 115
HADASSA KOSAK
- 6 Culture of Work: Italian Immigrant Women Homeworkers
in the New York City Garment Industry, 1890–1914 141
NANCY C. CARNEVALE
- 7 On Dominicans in New York City’s Garment Industry 169
RAMONA HERNÁNDEZ
- 8 Expanding Spheres: Men and Women in the Late
Twentieth-Century Garment Industry 193
MARGARET M. CHIN

PART III

Taking Responsibility for Conditions in the Industry: Unions, Consumers, Public

- 9 “Social Responsibility on a Global Level”: The National Consumers League, Fair Labor, and Worker Rights at Century’s End 211
EILEEN BORIS
- Notes 235
- Contributors 273
- Index 275