

Acknowledgments

My thanks to Jeff Kosky for answering questions about translations of Jean-Luc Marion's texts, and to Claire Lyu for her critical reading of my introductions. Thanks to Jessie Wright for assistance in scanning texts by Marion. It is always a pleasure to work with Fordham University Press: I am thankful to Helen Tartar for her enthusiasm for this project, to Tom Lay for guiding the book through the Press, and to Gregory McNamee for his meticulous copy editing of the text. My greatest debt is of course to Jean-Luc Marion, for answering all manner of questions about his work and for the intellectual exchange and friendship that form the ground of the enterprise.
