

Contents

|                                                                                                |     |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Preface and Acknowledgments                                                             | vii |
| Introduction                                                                                   | 1   |
| 1 National Origins and Local Identity:Museums of Premodern History                         | 27  |
| 2 Exhibiting the Revolution:The Museum of the Chinese Revolution                           | 45  |
| 3 Commodification and Nostalgia:Revolutionary History in the Era of the Market Economy     | 75  |
| 4 Martyrdom and Memory:Monuments, Memorials, and Museums for Dead Heroes                   | 95  |
| 5 Martial Glory and the Power of the State:Military Museums                                | 116 |
| 6 Heroic Resistance and Victims of Atrocity:Negotiating the Memory of Japanese Imperialism | 133 |
| 7 Heroic Models and Exemplary Leaders:Memorial Halls                                       | 153 |
| 8 Literary Politics and Cultural Heritage:Modern Literature Museums                        | 177 |
| 9 Ethnic Minorities and the Construction of National Identity:Ethnographic Museums         | 199 |
| 10 Revolutionary Memory and National Landscape:Red Tourism                                 | 214 |

|    |                                           |     |
|----|-------------------------------------------|-----|
| 11 | Museums of the Future:                    | 243 |
|    | Municipal Urban Planning Exhibition Halls |     |
|    | Conclusion                                | 265 |
|    | Notes                              | 269 |
|    | Glossary                           | 299 |
|    | Bibliography                       | 309 |
|    | Index                              | 337 |