

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Abbreviations	xi
Conventions	xiii
Chapter One. The Rhinoceros in the Room: Monks and Nuns and Their Families	1
1. Indian Buddhist Monasticisms	2
2. Conflicting Visions of the Ideal Monk	10
3. Indian Buddhist Monastic Law Codes	18
4. The Family	21
5. A Preview of the Inquiry	27
6. Reading Indian Buddhist Monastic Law Codes	29
7. A Note on the Scope of the Present Study	36
Chapter Two. Family Matters	37
1. Family Ties Set in Stone	39
2. From Home to Homelessness	45
3. Close Shaves with Monkish Assumptions	56
4. The Family That Eats Together	58
5. The Family That Stays Together	62
6. Like Father, Like Son	63
7. Incidental Incidents and Pugnacious Parents	68
8. Families on Different Paths	72
9. Conclusions	74
Chapter Three. Former Wives from Former Lives	78
1. Monastic Education Concerning Sex with One's Wife	80

2. Monks Arranging a Marriage for Their Children	87
3. Procedures for Formal Marital Dissolution	92
4. Relations between Married Monastics	96
5. A Monastic Family: Udāyin, Guptā, and Their Son, Kumāra-Kāśyapa	99
6. Mahākāśyapa and His Wife: Ascetic Values in Indian Buddhist Monasticisms	106
7. Married Monastics beyond India	115
8. Conclusions	118
Chapter Four. Nuns Who Become Pregnant	120
1. Mothers Becoming Nuns	121
2. Nursing Nuns	124
3. Monastic Motherhood	129
4. Nuns Becoming Mothers	134
5. Child Care and Nannyng Nuns	144
6. Conclusions	146
Chapter Five. Reconsidering Renunciation: Family-Friendly Monasticisms	150
1. A View of the Evidence	150
2. Family-Friendly Monasticisms	152
3. Family-Friendly Monasticisms in a Competitive Religious Marketplace	155
4. A Scholarly Misperception	162
5. Comparative Monasticisms	163
6. On the Utility of Vinaya Texts for the Study of Indian Buddhist Monasticisms	165
Notes	171
Works Consulted	229
Index of Texts	263
Index of Authors/Subjects	267