

CONTENTS

Abbreviations	ix
Foreword Volker Berghahn	x
Introduction	1

PART I. HITLER'S ULTIMATE GOALS 1920–1933: “LEBENSRAUM” ONLY IN THE EAST?

Chapter 1.	Hitler and his Critics	19
Chapter 2.	Current Research	22
Chapter 3.	Mein Kampf as the Central Source	27
Chapter 4.	Hitler as Builder: Construction Plans, Armaments, and a Vision of War	32
Chapter 5.	The Beginnings of a Power Politician: “Models” of Imperial Rule	38
Chapter 6.	No Turning back: The Aftermath of September 14, 1930	43

PART II. HITLER AS ARCHITECT

Chapter 7.	Megalomania as Policy	61
Chapter 8.	Hitler's Views on Architecture, History, and Art	69
Chapter 9.	Buildings and their Functions	77
Chapter 10.	Hitler and his Plans after 1933	83
Chapter 11.	Architecture and the Third Reich	99
Chapter 12.	Summary	104

PART III. HITLER AND MILITARY ISSUES: FROM WHALE BAY TO LAKE ERIE

Chapter 13. Hitler's Addresses to German Officers	109
Chapter 14. The Navy's Battleship Building Plans and Visions of World Power	131
Chapter 15. The Me 261/264: Hitler's Long Range Bomber	139
Chapter 16. Summary	151

PART IV. HITLER IN 1940–1941: WHEN VISIONS BECOME REALITY

Chapter 17. Axiomatic Geopolitics: 1950 as the Objective	155
Chapter 18. The Remaining Powers after a Victory over the Soviet Union	160
Chapter 19. Hitler's Path to World Supremacy	170
The Military Solution	171
The Trade War	173
The "Annexation" of the World	174
Chapter 20. Ruling the New World	180
Chapter 21. The British Assessment of Hitler's Ultimate Goals	188
Chapter 22. Summary	193
Chapter 23. Final Observations on Hitler's Global Strategy	195
Selected Bibliography	201
Index	203

Figures follow page 105.