

Contents

Foreword
by Volker R. Berghahn	vii
Acknowledgments	x
Introduction
by Geoff Eley and James Retallack	1
1. Making a Place in the Nation: Meanings of “Citizenship” in Wilhelmine Germany
Geoff Eley	16
2. Membership, Organization, and Wilhelmine Modernism: Constructing Economic Democracy through Cooperation
Brett Fairbairn	34
3. “Few better farmers in Europe”? Productivity, Change, and Modernization in East-Elbian Agriculture, 1870-1913
Oliver Grant	51
4. The Wilhelmine Regime and the Problem of Reform: German Debates about Modern Nation-States
Mark Hewitson	73
5. Lebensreform : A Middle-Class Antidote to Wilhelminism?
Matthew Jefferies	91
6. Imperialist Socialism of the Chair: Gustav Schmoller and German Weltpolitik , 1897-1905
Erik Grimmer-Solem	107
7. “Our natural ally”: Anglo-German Relations and the Contradictory Agendas of Wilhelmine Socialism, 1897-1900
Paul Probert	123

8. The “Malet Incident,” October 1895: A Prelude to the Kaiser’s “Krüger Telegram” in the Context of the Anglo-German Imperialist Rivalry Willem-Alexander van’t Padje	138
9. Colonial Agitation and the Bismarckian State: The Case of Carl Peters Arne Perras	154
10. The Law and the Colonial State: Legal Codification versus Practice in a German Colony Nils Ole Oermann	171
11. Max Warburg and German Politics: The Limits of Financial Power in Wilhelmine Germany Niall Ferguson	185
12. Continuity and Change in Post-Wilhelmine Germany: From the 1918 Revolution to the Ruhr Crisis Conan Fischer	202
13. A Wilhelmine Legacy? Coudenhove-Kalergi’s Pan-Europe and the Crisis of European Modernity, 1922-1932 Katiana Orluc	219
14. Ideas into Politics: Meanings of “Stasis” in Wilhelmine Germany James Retallack	235
Notes on Contributors	253
List of Publications by Hartmut Pogge von Strandmann	257
Index	261