

CONTENTS

XV	OPENING REMARKS Florence James, Penelakut First Nation
XVII	PREFACE “Storywork”: Foundations
XXVI	Nanaimo Indian Hospital: A Patient Remembers Sainty Morris
XXXV	INTRODUCTION “Storytelling”: Why We Must Listen
XLI	“Cold Needles” Laura Cranmer

1

1	TUBERCULOSIS
---	--------------

2

11	INDIAN HEALTH SERVICES An Evolving System
26	Nursing Work at the United Church Hospital, Bella Bella, British Columbia Marge Thompson
29	Nursing Work at the Anglican Hospitals in Aklavik and Pangnirtung Biddy Worsley
33	Director of Nursing at the Camsell Elva Taylor

3

- 41 THE INSTITUTIONS
Indian Hospitals and Field Nursing
- 61 Nursing at the Camsell
Marjorie Warke
- 68 Occupational Therapy Student, Charles Camsell
Indian Hospital, 1966
Truus van Royen
- 73 Working in Occupational Therapy at the Camsell
Rae Dong

4

- 77 PATIENTS AND FAMILIES
Life In and Around the Indian Hospitals
- 99 A Patient's Memory of Nanaimo Indian Hospital
Laura Cranmer
- 104 Life as a Patient in the Charles Camsell Indian Hospital
Alma Desjarlais
- 111 A Patient and a Worker in British Columbia Indian Hospitals
Marie Dick
- 114 Visiting the Nanaimo Indian Hospital
Delores Louie

5

- 121 SNUWUYULTH
Local Indigenous Medicine
- 133 A Conversation about the Nanaimo Indian Hospital
Violet Charlie
- 137 Remembering Indian Health Services and Traditional Medicine
on the Snuneymuxw Reserve
Ellen White

6

143	WORKING IN HEALTH CARE Aboriginal Nurses and Caregivers
168	Aboriginal Nurse at the Camsell Kathleen Steinhauer
176	Nanaimo Indian Hospital—Being a Patient and Becoming a Nurse Michael Dick
183	Ward Aide and Office Assistant at the Nanaimo Indian Hospital Violet Clark
190	Nursing Aide at Lac La Ronge Nursing Station Muriel Innes
193	Aboriginal People and Nursing Evelyn Voyageur
205	POSTSCRIPT
207	ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS
211	APPENDICES
213	NOTES
231	SELECT BIBLIOGRAPHY
237	INDEX

