

Contents

Preface	ix
1. MacArthur and Wilson's Radical Theory	3
2. On Current Theories of Relative Species Abundance	30
3. Dynamical Models of the Relative Abundance of Species	48
4. Local Community Dynamics under Ecological Drift	76
5. Metacommunity Dynamics and the Unified Theory	113
6. The Unified Theory and Dynamical Species-Area Relationships	152
7. Metapopulations and Biodiversity on the Metacommunity Landscape	202
8. Speciation, Phylogeny, and the Evolution of Metacommunity Biodiversity	231
9. Sampling, Parameter Estimation, and the Generality of the Unified Theory	281
10. Reconciling Dispersal-Assembly and Niche-Assembly Theories	319
Literature Cited	347
Index	371

