

CONTENTS

PREFACE	xiii
INTRODUCTION	3
Part One: The Ordinary Meaning of 'Equality'
ONE. DESCRIPTIVE EQUALITY	11
The Constitutive Elements of Descriptive Equality	12
The Distinctive Comparative Relationship of "Equality"	19
Conclusion	38
TWO. MATHEMATICAL EQUALITY	42
Numbers as Description	43
Numbers as Abstractions	46
Proportional Equality	52
Conclusion	58
THREE. PRESCRIPTIVE EQUALITY	59
Elements of Prescriptive Equality	62
The Nature of Prescriptive Standards	65
The Relation between Descriptive and Prescriptive Equality: The Link between "Is" and "Ought"	69
Ambiguity Regarding the Substance of the Underlying Prescription	71
Prescriptions by Which People Are Simultaneously both Equal and Unequal	79
The Combination of Description and Prescription: Descriptive Standards of Comparison Predicated on Prescriptive Baselines	86
Conclusion	89
FOUR. EQUAL TREATMENT	93
The Elements of Equal Treatment	94
The Ambiguities of Equal Treatment	99

CONTENTS

Treating People “Equally” versus Treating Them as “Equals”	102
“Disparate Adverse Impact” as Unequal Treatment	108
Conclusion	113
FIVE. SUMMARY	119
The Generic Meaning of ‘Equality’	119
The Elusiveness of Prescriptive Equality	122
The Contestedness of Prescriptive Equality	124
Part Two: Some More Equal than Others
SIX. ANTIDISCRIMINATION RIGHTS	131
Equality, Comparisons, and Comparative Rights	134
Equality Rights, Rights to Equality, Rights to Equal Treatment, and Principles of Equal Rights	139
Conclusion	142
SEVEN. PER-CAPITA DISTRIBUTIONS	146
Aristotle’s Alternative Conception	150
Per-capita Distributions: Equal without Also Being Unequal?	153
Per-capita Distributions: The Analogy with Mathematics	155
Conclusion	159
EIGHT. EQUAL OPPORTUNITY	163
The Meaning of ‘Opportunity’	164
The Meaning of ‘Equal Opportunity’	171
The Ambiguity of Equal Opportunity	173
Conclusion	176
Part Three: Precepts of Equality
NINE. THE FORMAL PRINCIPLE OF EQUALITY	185
The Meaning of “Equals Should Be Treated Equally”	186
The Truth of “Equals Should Be Treated Equally”	193
The Supposed Content of “Equals Should Be Treated Equally”	194
The Meaning of “Unequals Should Be Treated Unequally”	204
The Requirement of “Consistency”	210
Reasoning by Analogy	219

CONTENTS

The Requirement of Impartiality	233
Conclusion	225
TEN. THE PRESUMPTION OF EQUALITY	230
The Nature of Presumptions	232
The Relationship between the Presumption of Equality and "Equals Should Be Treated Equally"	233
The Meaning of the Presumption of Equality	236
The Validity of the Presumption of Equality	242
Conclusion	253
Part Four: The Rhetoric of Equality
ELEVEN. THE PERSUASIVENESS OF EQUALITY	257
The Paradigm of Equality in Mathematics	262
The Grounding of Prescriptive Equalities in Descriptive Equalities	265
The Ambiguity of Prescriptive Equalities	267
The Unity of Equalities in a Common Concept of Equality	271
The Semantic Bias in Favor of 'Equality'	274
Conclusion	280
CONCLUSION	285
BIBLIOGRAPHY	289
INDEX	311

