

Contents

Preface to the First Edition	vii
Note to the Expanded Edition	xi
Introduction to the Expanded Edition	xix
List of Tables and Figures	xxvii
Abbreviations	2
Introduction	3

PART I

TANU BEFORE INDEPENDENCE • A POLITICAL HISTORY	19
--	----

I. ORIGIN AND INHERITANCE OF THE TAN- GANYIKA AFRICAN NATIONAL UNION	21
Pre-TANU Political Organizations	21
Tribalism	32
Native Authorities	37
Swahili Political Culture and National Integration	43
Conclusion	49
II. THE DRIVE TO INDEPENDENCE AND DOMINANCE	50
British Policy, Electoral Competition, and Splinter Parties	50
TANU's Organization in the 1950's	60
Conclusion	70

PART II

ORGANIZATION, RECRUITMENT, AND IDEOLOGY	73
III. ELECTED TANU OFFICIALS IN THE REGIONS AND DISTRICTS	75
The Constitution of TANU	81
TANU Organizations at the Regional Levels	84
TANU Organizations at the District Levels	98
Conclusion	110

CONTENTS

IV. APPOINTED TANU OFFICIALS IN THE REGIONS AND DISTRICTS	112
TANU Secretaries Before Independence	113
Appointment of Area and Regional Commissioners	119
Reaction to the Colonial Pattern	120
Recruitment of Area and Regional Commissioners	128
Movement of Commissioners	141
Recruitment from the Civil Service	147
Continuity and Change in the Relationships Between Elected and Appointed Officials	153
V. TANU AT THE CENTER	158
The President of TANU	158
The NEC and the TANU National Conference	169
The Central Committee and the National Headquarters	185
Constitutional Changes in TANU 's Central Institutions in 1965	198
VI. IDEOLOGY AND COMMITMENT	203
Nyerere's Thought	211
African Socialism	212
Economic Policy and Nationalism	217
Democracy, the Party, and the State	227
The Presidential Commission	238
The Impact of Ideology	250
PART III
TANU AND THE ECONOMY OF TANGANYIKA • CONDITIONS, APPARATUS, AND GOALS	259
VII. THE ECONOMY OF TANGANYIKA	261
Economic Conditions	264
Economic Policy	273

CONTENTS

VIII. THE FORMULATION OF THE
FIVE YEAR PLAN	281
The Ministerial System	281
The Directorate of Planning	284
Formulation of the Five Year Plan	291
The Five Year Plan	295
Criticisms of the Five Year Plan	301
Conclusion	304
IX. GOVERNMENT IN THE REGIONS
AND DISTRICTS	307
Commissioners as Heads of Government in the Regions and Districts	310
Formal Responsibilities of the
Commissioners	313
Commissioners and Their Civil Servants	317
Economic Responsibilities in the Regions
and Districts	320
District and Regional Development
Committees	322
X. TANU TRIES TO REACH THE VILLAGES	334
TANU and Rural Development	334
TANU and Enforced Change	343
Village Development Committees and
Traditional Rulers	349
TANU Cells	356
PART IV
CRISES AND CONCLUSIONS	361
XI. THE ARMY MUTINY IN PERSPECTIVE	363
The Army Mutiny	366
Reconstruction of the Security Forces	374
Conclusion	380

CONTENTS

XII. THE ELECTIONS OF SEPTEMBER 1965	382
Electoral Framework	382
Election Results	387
Conclusion	405
XIII. THE ARUSHA FORMULATIONS	406
XIV. CONCLUSIONS	448
APPENDIXES	465
I. TANGANYIKA: ECONOMIC ABSTRACT	467
II. THE FIRST FIVE YEAR PLAN	471
III. THE SECOND FIVE YEAR PLAN	474
IV. VILLAGE PLANS	479
SELECTED BIBLIOGRAPHY	481
INDEX	501