

Contents

Introduction	1
Jack A. Draper III and Cacilda M. Rêgo

Part 1 Breaking Ground/Making Space in the Industry

Chapter 1
Recognizing Women's Contributions to Brazilian Cinema	17
Cacilda M. Rêgo
Chapter 2
Behind the Scenes: Brazilian Women Screenwriters in Film and Television	47
Leslie L. Marsh
Chapter 3
Resistance and Online Activism: Brazilian Women Filmmakers' Initiatives (2014–2017)	71
Daniela Verztman Bagdadi
Chapter 4
Interview with Maria Augusta Ramos	101
Jack A. Draper III, Cacilda M. Rêgo, and Gustavo Procopio Furtado

Part 2

Politics of Public/Private Spaces

Chapter 5
From Tweets to the Streets: Women's Documentary Filmmaking and Brazil's Feminist Spring	115
Rebecca J. Atencio
Chapter 6
Motherhood and Making Kin in Contemporary Brazilian Cinema	139
Jack A. Draper III
Chapter 7
The Many Mirrors of Maria Augusta Ramos: Landscape, Institutions, and Everyday Lives in Contemporary Brazil	161
Paula Halperin
Chapter 8
Interview with Petra Costa	183
Jack A. Draper III

Part 3

Intersecting Identities

Chapter 9
Conditions for a Twenty-First-Century Black Woman Cinema in Brazil: The Politics and Aesthetics of Yasmin Thayná's Audiovisual Practice	197
María Mercedes Vázquez Vázquez
Chapter 10
Afro-Brazilian Women Creative Workers Speak: Juliana Vicente's Standpoint Cinema (Cinema of O Lugar de Fala)	217
Reighan Gillam
Chapter 11
Interview with Mari Corrêa	233
Gustavo Procopio Furtado

Chapter 12
Interview with Paula Sacchetta	251
Rebecca J. Atencio
Contributors	267
Index	271