

CONTENTS

---

List of Illustrations	vii
Acknowledgments	ix
Notes on the Contributors	x
1. Introduction: Cold War Genres and the Rock-and-Roll Film Homer B. Pettey	1
2. Social Factors in Brainwashing Films of the 1950s and 1960s David Seed	21
3. The Berlin Crisis? Piff!/: Billy Wilder's Cold War Comedy, One, Two, Three Ed Sikov	42
4. The Small Adult Film: A Prestige Form of Cold War Cinema R. Barton Palmer	62
5. "I'm Lucky – I Had Rich Parents": Disability and Class in the Postwar Biopic Genre Martin F. Norden	79
6. Rogue Nation, 1954: History, Class Consciousness, and the "Rogue Cop" Film Robert Miklitsch	99

CONTENTS

---

7. Internal Enmity: Hollywood's Fragile Home Stories in the 1950s and 1960s Elisabeth Bronfen	123
8. Suburban Sublime Homer B. Pettey	144
9. Domestic Containment for Whom? Gendered and Racial Variations on Cold War Modernity in the Apartment Plot Pamela Robertson Wojcik	163
10. Success and the Single Girl: Urban Romances of Working Women Jennifer Lei Jenkins	181
11. Paris Loves Lovers and Americans Loved Paris: Gender, Class, and Modernity in the Postwar Hollywood Musical Steven Cohan	204
12. Straight to Baby: Scoring Female Jazz Agency and New Masculinity in Henry Mancini's Peter Gunn Kristin McGee	228
Index	259