

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First of all, I would like to place on record my thanks to the Society of French Studies and their very valuable Small Research Support bursary, which significantly helped research at the Cinémathèque Royale in Brussels during the summer of 2015. I'd also like to thank the archivists and staff at the Cinémathèque Royale for their help and support during my research trips from 2011 to 2017 for this project (and no doubt during research trips to come). A further thank-you to Professor Will Higbee for his guidance, comments and advice on this project throughout my PhD. Thanks are also due to the University of Exeter, University of Bristol and Bath Spa University for employing me over the years (2014–present) during which this book was researched and written. Their employment certainly helped with the continuation of this cinematic journey through Belgium. And last, but not least, a special thanks to my family and partner, Nicole Needham, for all of their unwavering support over the many years it took to eventually realise this project.
