

Figures

1.1	Jörgen and Jacob in Efter brylluppet/After the Wedding	22
1.2	The motif of lying, the vulnerable human, and the open ending	26
1.3–1.5	Cæcilie and Niels in Elsker dig for evigt/Open Hearts	28
1.6, 1.7	Mikael Persbrandt as Anton in Hævnen/In a Better World	30
2.1	Sus and Sonny visiting the doctor	43
2.2	Lizzie and Niller visiting the adoption center	43
2.3	Mgala's first word in "Danish"	45
2.4	Sus in conversation with Lizzie	46
2.5	The invasion of golden fairytale dust	48
2.6	The Danish Way	49
2.7	The Italian Way	50
2.8	Lemons inaugurating the theme of the color yellow	50
3.1	Jörgen sobbing "I don't want to die" in After the Wedding	64
3.2	The final shot of The Night Manager's Richard Roper in the back of a police van	64
3.3	Niels reacting to Cæcilie's rejection in Open Hearts	65
3.4	Jerry detoxing after a heroin relapse in Things We Lost in the Fire	65
3.5	Sekten's Dr. Lack in fetal position	66
3.6	Bier's screen surrogate?	66
3.7	Jerry's frustrated desire for Audrey on display in Things We Lost in the Fire	69
3.8	Audrey's feelings toward Jerry are less evident	69
4.1	Close-up, arranging a guest table	85
4.2	Freud circling around her mother	85

4.3	Arrival of the older children	87
4.4	Singing “Lomir Ale Eeynem”	88
4.5	Freud’s sexual initiation	91
5.1	The poster using an image from Pensionat Oskar ’s ending	100
5.2	Absent husbands, forsaken wives in both Pensionat Oskar and Den skaldede frisor	101
5.3	Once In A Lifetime ’s ending cuts between hope and sadness	104
5.4	Two persons enjoying the pleasures of water, and two men alarmed by the careless non-normative bathing	107
5.5	Corky poses a threat to the heterosexual hero	109
7.1	Jed receives an abusive phone call from her mother	145
7.2	Angela Burr talks to Jonathan Pine	146
8.1	Adrian, witness and confessor to Roshe’s scars	159
8.2	Welcome home dinner for Jannik	161
8.3	Michael avoids looking at Niels Peter	162
8.4	Michael screams at the Taliban camp leader	163
8.5	Anton floats in the sea, caressing his slapped cheek	165
8.6	Cæcilie desperate for contact with Joachim	168
9.1	Encounter and afterimage: Andreas finds Sofus	176
9.2	Simon sees the truth	178
9.3	The fracture of the ideal family	179
9.4	Bad parents or victims?	182
9.5	“Wake up!”: Addressing the viewer	184
10.1	Jonathan Pine asking questions about Mr. Hamid on the phone	193
10.2	The image of Jonathan Pine’s eye spying behind a door	195
10.3	Richard Roper and Jonathan Pine/Andrew Birch in one of their “eye duels”	197
10.4a	The biometric eye scan is central to the plot of The Night Manager	198
10.4b	Jonathan Pine “cheats with his eyes” in the final showdown	199
10.5	Jed showering and dressing up for a new day	200
10.6	Jonathan Pine taking in the beaten face of Sophie	201
10.7	“Who are you? Everyone is attracted to you . . .”	202
11.1	Serena’s descent into madness is exacerbated following her miscarriage	220
11.2	The eerie Smokey Mountains of North Carolina	221
11.3	Transitions between scenes in Serena consistently return to images of the mountains	221
11.4	The topography of the natural environment looms	221
11.5	Serena begins as a story told from George’s perspective	222

11.6	Serena and Galloway hunt down Jacob and his mother, Rachel	222
12.1	The use of close-ups has become an important marker of Bier's screen aesthetic	233
12.2	Jacob says goodbye to Indian orphan Pramod	236
12.3	A South Sudanese refugee begs Anton not to help Big Man	236
12.4	Jørgen reads a bedtime story to his twin boys, Martin and Morten	237
12.5	Bier's framing highlights the legacy of violence between children and adults	239
12.6	Marianne escorts Christian to see her son Elias	240
13.1	White, blue-eyed Scandinavian protagonist	248
13.2	Clean, orderly Western space juxtaposed against Anton's South Sudan workplace in In a Better World	249
13.3	A young girl cries in a dust storm in South Sudan	249
13.4	Jacob and Pramod meet at eye level in After the Wedding	250
13.5	Close-up of unseeing animal eyes on Jørgen's walls in In a Better World	252
13.6	After the Wedding 's credits roll in India	255
P.1	Susanne Bier	262
P.2	Susanne Bier with the volume editors	281