

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	vii
List of Figures	x
List of Tables	xii
Traditions in World Cinema	xiii
 Introduction: The Cultural Politics of Transnational Filmmaking	 1
Mexico: Introduction	33
1. Alejandro González Iñárritu: Mexican Director Without Borders	47
2. ‘From Hollywood and Back’: Alfonso Cuarón’s Adventures in Genre	76
3. Guillermo del Toro’s Transnational Political Horror: Cronos (1993), El espinazo del diablo (The Devil’s Backbone 2001) and El laberinto del fauno (Pan’s Labyrinth 2006)	102
Brazil: Introduction	123
4. Fernando Meirelles as Transnational Auteur	137
5. Revolutionary Road Movies: Walter Salles’ Diarios de motocicleta (Motorcycle Diaries 2004) and On the Road (2012)	161
Argentina: Introduction	187
6. Juan José Campanella: Historical Memory and Accountability in El secreto de sus ojos (The Secret in Their Eyes 2009)	201

Epilogue: Gravity (Alfonso Cuarón 2013), Birdman (Alejandro G. Iñárritu 2014), The Revenant (G. Iñárritu 2015) and Crimson Peak (Guillermo del Toro 2015)	227
Select Filmography	240
Bibliography	248
Index	268