

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Foreword by Mirjam Künkler	ix
Preface to the English Translation	xxxi
Introduction to the 2008 Edition	I
Section One: The Bases for Discussions on Islam and Human Rights
1 From Traditional Islam to End-oriented Islam	11
2 The Principles of Compatibility between Islam and Modernity	35
3 An Introduction to the Public and Private Debate in Islamic Culture	48
Section Two: Islam and Human Rights
4 Imam Sajjad and the Rights of Mankind	73
5 Human Rights and Reformist Islam	87
6 Questions and Answers about Human Rights and Reformist Islam	169
7 Human Rights, Secularism and Religion	193
Section Three: Freedoms of Belief, Religion and Politics
8 The Freedom of Belief and Religion in Islam and Human Rights Documents	209
9 The Rights of the Political Opposition in an Islamic Society	246
Section Four: Women's Rights
10 Reformist Islam and Women's Rights	273
11 Women's Rights in the Hereafter: A Qur'anic Theological Study	305

Section Five: Other Debates in Human Rights

12	The Issue of Slavery in Contemporary Islam	333
13	The Rights of Non-Muslims in Contemporary Islam	377
14	Social Security in Islamic Teachings	385
	Bibliography	403
	Glossary	426
	Index	437