

FIGURES

1.1	Transnational influence: Melvin Van Peebles as the original blaxploitation hero in Sweet Sweetback's Baadasssss Song (Melvin Van Peebles, 1971)	24
1.2	All-out war in Doomsday (Abie Hattingh, 1986)	29
1.3	Steve James in American Ninja 3: Blood Hunt (Cedric Sundstrom, 1989)	32
1.4	Ken Gampu as Joe Bullet in Joe Bullet (Louis de Witt, 1973)	34
2.1	A meal fit for a mafia king in Joe Bullet (Louis de Witt, 1973)	42
2.2	Ken Gampu in Joe Bullet (Louis de Witt, 1973)	43
2.3	Abigail Kubeka dances for the titular hero in Joe Bullet (Louis de Witt, 1973)	47
2.4	Ken Gampu returns as Joe Bullet in the sequel Bullet on the Run (Tonie van der Merwe, 1982)	56
3.1	Ron O'Neal as Youngblood Priest in Super Fly (Gordon Parks Jr, 1972), a notable influence on Simon Sabela's iKati Elimnyama	63
3.2	Simon Sabela as Lefty in iKati Elimnyama (or Black Cat , Simon Sabela, 1975)	64
3.3	Compromised by the mainstream, Simon Sabela as the Black saviour character King in Gold (Peter R. Hunt, 1974)	72
4.1	Two of the main faces of B-Scheme cinema, Popo Gumede (sometimes credited as Innocent Gumede, left) and Hector

	Mathanda (right), pictured in Fishy Stones (Tonie van der Merwe, 1989)	81
4.2	Emmanuel Shangase (sometimes credited as Dumi or Dumisani Shongwe), another recurring B-Scheme face, and Hector Mathanda in The Faceless Man (Carl Bleakley, 1985)	86
4.3	B-Scheme regular Hector Mathanda runs for his life in Beware Tiger (Michelle Hartsliet, 1986)	92
4.4	Hector Mathanda in Ivondwe (Louis De Witt, 1986)	94
4.5	Another fixture of the B-Scheme – Pepsi Mabizela in Gone Crazy (Tony Cunningham, 1980s)	96
4.6	Emmanuel Shangase/Dumi Shongwe in Under Cover (Tony Cunningham, 1989)	97
4.7	Crime doesn't pay in Under Cover (Tony Cunningham, 1989)	98
4.8	Emmanuel Shangase/Dumi Shongwe in a villainous turn opposite Zanela Nyidi in Hostage (Michele Hartsliet, 1986)	99
5.1	Black and white working together in Knockout Joe (Laurens Barnard, 1984)	112
5.2	Hector Mathanda serves tea in his lavish new homestead in The Comedians (Japie van der Merwe, 1980)	114
5.3	Emmanuel Shangase/Dumi Shongwe up to no good in Ransom (Tony Cunningham, 1980s)	120
5.4	One of many repetitive scenes of characters working out in The Boxer – a B-Scheme film that has no boxing (Michelle Hartsliet, 1986)	122
6.1	Popo Gumede sneaks up on a symbol of white authority in Black Crusader (Tony Cunningham, 1986)	130
6.2	Popo Gumede in trouble, as a badass for the B-Scheme in Black Crusader (Tony Cunningham, 1986)	131
6.3	Popo Gumede avenges his sister and father by killing another member of a local criminal gang in Impindiso (or Cold Justice , Carton Spielberg, 1980s)	134
6.4	Sol Rachilo as the title character in Charlie Steele (Bevis Parsons, 1984)	135
6.5	The Wild West in South Africa in Revenge (Coenie Dippenaar, 1986)	143
6.6A	Hector Mathanda looks on as actor Vincent Velekazi opens fire in Umbango (or The Feud , Tonie van der Merwe, 1986)	144
6.6B	Director Tonie van der Merwe, playing a victim of a shoot-out, nurses his injuries in Umbango (or The Feud , Tonie van der Merwe, 1986)	145
7.1	Ken Gampu and Michael Dudikoff are 'buddies' in American Ninja 4: The Annihilation (Cedric Sundstrom, 1990)	150

7.2	Nigel Davenport and Ken Gampu as an unlikely crime fighting duo in Death of a Snowman (Christopher Rowley, 1976)	155
7.3	Black and white team-up against criminal elements in Run for Your Life (Tommy Röthig, 1985)	159
7.4	Johnny Tough (Hector Rabotabi) takes on white authority in One More Shot (Ronnie Isaacs, 1984)	160
7.5	Actor Winston Ntshona in The Wild Geese (Andrew V. McLaglen, 1978)	163
7.6	White nightmare – a Black communist guerrilla takes a hostage in Shamwari (Clive Harding, 1982)	167
8.1A	Dominique Tyawa as Miriam in Johnny Dlamini (Robert van de Coolwijk, 1986)	172
8.1B	Dominique Tyawa's Miriam is a rare B-Scheme heroine who outsmarts the male characters in Johnny Dlamini (Robert van de Coolwijk, 1986)	173
8.2	Zep (So Mhlanga) argues with his pregnant girlfriend Caroline (unidentified actress), who later kills herself in Zero for Zep (Steve Hand and Laurens Barnard, 1980s)	179
8.3	Charlotte Dlamini (Lungi Mdlala) meets her bodyguard, Robert (Popo Gumede)	184
8.4	Thembi Mtshali as Pat, girlfriend of Panic and political activist in Mapantsula (Oliver Schmitz, 1988)	188
9.1	Actor Ken Gampu, playing a tough African dictator, in the controversial but commercial The Gods Must Be Crazy (Jamie Uys, 1980)	193
9.2	Arnold Vosloo as a soldier of the apartheid state in Boetie Gaan Border Toe (Regardt van den Bergh, 1984)	194
9.3	Vera Johns is terrorised in Operation Hit Squad (Tonie van der Merwe, Kathy Viedge, 1987)	196
9.4	Richard Roundtree takes aim, as a Zimbabwe liberation fighter, in Game for Vultures (James Fargo, 1979)	198
9.5	Hector Mathanda as a guerrilla and poacher in Ambushed (Tonie van der Merwe, 1988)	200
9.6	The Angolan conflict spills into Namibia in Terrorist (Neil Hetherington, 1978)	202
9.7	Vera Johns tries to survive in Terrorist (Neil Hetherington, 1978)	204
9.8	The war in Angola becomes horror film nightmare in The Stick (Darrell Roodt, 1988)	206
10.1	Thomas Mogotlane as Johannes 'Panic' Themba Mzolo in Mapantsula (Oliver Schmitz, 1988)	212
10.2	Thomas Mogotlane as Johannes 'Panic' Themba Mzolo in Mapantsula (Oliver Schmitz, 1988)	214

10.3	Xuma (Phinda Mazibuko) and Stella (Lungi Mkwanazi) in Mine Boy (Karen Thorne, 1989)	222
10.4	Xuma (Phinda Mazibuko) and Pinki (Olga Mothi) in Mine Boy (Karen Thorne, 1989)	224
10.5	Kliptown prostitute Pinki (Olga Mothi) awakes to money on her pillow in Mine Boy (Karen Thorne, 1989)	225
10.6	Peter Sephuma in My Country My Hat (David Bensusan, 1983), an anti-apartheid film that found its audience on the B-Scheme network.	226
C.1	Popo Gumede in Umbango (or The Feud , Tonie van der Merwe, 1986)	232
C.2	Woman meets snake in Snake Dancer (Dirk De Villiers, 1976)	234
C.3	Thomas Mogotlane as Johannes 'Panic' Themba Mzolo in Mapantsula (Oliver Schmitz, 1988), the crowning achievement of 'filmmaking on the fringe' in the old South Africa.	237