

Acknowledgements

This book has been long in the gestation and I have received a great deal of support and assistance along the way. I am very grateful to the Arts and Humanities Research Council for awarding me a research fellowship which allowed me to carry out foundational archival research and interviews with numerous activists and policy-makers, and to the Gaelic Books Council for awarding a publication grant. For giving me access to different kinds of archival materials, I am indebted to Alasdair MacLeod, Dolina MacLeod and David Powell (CnES), Joyce Seymour Chalk and Tommy MacAskill (GSL), Douglas Ansdell and Stuart Pescodd (Scottish Government), Gordon Cameron (Royal Celtic Society/Stuart & Stuart, Edinburgh) and Professor Donald Meek (formerly of the universities of Aberdeen and Edinburgh). Kirsty Blackhall, Alasdair MacCaluim and Fiona MacDougall helped with the transcription of interviews. My thanks to Ronald Black, William Gillies, Sheila Kidd, Ian MacDonald, Jennifer McHarrie, Matthew MacIver, Hugh Dan MacLennan, Peadar Morgan, Gillian Munro, Fiona O'Hanlon, Tadhg Ó hIfearnáin, Peadar Ó Muircheartaigh and Colin Williams, who assisted me with enquiries or practical requests of different kinds. I am especially grateful to all those who gave of their time to be interviewed in connection with this book: Allan Campbell, Kenna Campbell, Duncan Ferguson, Michael Forsyth, Neil Fraser, Norman Gillies, John Angus Mackay, Kenneth MacKinnon, Malcolm Maclean, Aonghas MacNeacail, Annie MacSween, Donald Martin, Donald Meek, Lindsay Paterson, Peter Peacock, Roy Pedersen, Boyd Robertson, Mina Smith, Iain Taylor, Mike Watson, Brian Wilson and the late Duncan MacQuarrie. Particular thanks are due to Ewen Cameron, Rob Dunbar, Alasdair MacCaluim and John Walsh, who provided valuable comments on an earlier draft of the manuscript. Finally, a special note of gratitude to Konstanze and Mànus for their patience and forbearance throughout. Mo thaing chridheil dhuibh uile.
