

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements and Note on the Texts	vii
Introduction: 'Marx, Weber and Durkheim: Why Bother?'	1
Guide to Further Reading: General	9
Section One: Karl Marx
Karl Marx: A Brief Biography	13
1.1 Alienated Labour	15
1.2 The Theses on Feuerbach	24
1.3 The German Ideology and Historical Materialism	26
1.4 The Communist Manifesto	39
1.5 Wage Labour and Capital	48
1.6 The Preface to A Critique of Political Economy	66
1.7 The Fetishism of Commodities	68
1.8 The So-called Primitive Accumulation	72
1.9 Selected Correspondence: Letter to Annenkov; Letter to Weydemeyer; Letter to Mikhailovski	106
Guide to Further Reading	109
Section Two: Max Weber
Max Weber: A Brief Biography	113
2.1 The Protestant Ethic and the Spirit of Capitalism	115
2.2 Class, Status and Party	132
2.3 Bureaucracy	142
2.4 Science as a Vocation	154
2.5 Definitions of Sociology and Social Action	157
2.6 Legitimacy and Authority	165
Guide to Further Reading	175
Section Three: Emile Durkheim
Emile Durkheim: A Brief Biography	179
3.1 The Division of Labour in Society : Introduction	181
3.2 Sanctions and Mechanical and Organic Solidarity	185
3.3 The Division of Labour: Causes and Abnormal Forms	194
3.4 The Rules of Sociological Method	207
3.5 Suicide: A Study in Sociology	212
3.6 Religion and Society	232
Guide to Further Reading	248
Copyright Acknowledgements	249
Index	251

