
Contents

Introduction: The Many Aspects of Duration Robert W. Luzecky	1
--	---

Part I: Concepts of Time

1 Time is Real: Deleuze and Guattari, from Chaos to Complexity Dorothea E. Olkowski	11
2 The Movement of Time Thomas Nail	27
3 The Pure Form of Time: Deleuze's Theory of Temporality Daniel W. Smith	45

Part II: History of Time

4 Gilles Deleuze's Interpretation of the Eternal Return: From Nietzsche and Philosophy to Difference and Repetition James Mollison	75
5 Time and the Untimely: Deleuze, Foucault and the Production of the New Strand Sheldahl-Thomason	98
6 Kant, Merleau-Ponty, Deleuze and the Constitution of Experience Henry Somers-Hall	116
7 Disjoint and Multiply: Deleuze and Negri on Time Peter Trnka	136

Part III: Expressions of Time

8	Kill Metaphor: Kafka's Becoming-Animal and the Deterritorialisation of Language as a Rejection of Stasis Charlene Elsby	161
9	Memories of Cinema Robert W. Luzecky	179
10	Time, Truth and the Power of the False Vernon W. Cisney	213
11	Gilles Deleuze, A Man Out of Time Charles J. Stivale	234
	Notes on Contributors	258
	Index	262