

Notes on the Text

British spelling is used throughout the book (except within quotations with other spellings).

References with no pagination (npg) are either online journals/resources or Kindle books/epubs.

In each chapter, I use the full name of scholars quoted, the first time I mention them. From then on, they are referred to by their surnames. Similarly, the full title of each film (in its original language plus translation and release date) is referenced only the first time I mention it. From then on, I use the English translation. Films widely known in their original titles such as La Jetée (1962) and Invasión (1969) are left untranslated.

Finally, for each character mentioned I provide in brackets the name of the actor portraying the character only the first time the character is named in each chapter.
